This end of terrace property enjoys a cul-de-sac position meaning minimal passing traffic. The end of row position means there is a private gated side access to the garden which faces west for maximum afternoon sun. To the front of the property are two parking spaces, one on the property and one un-allocated which has been in habitual use, with additional kerb parking available opposite.

The front door is separated from the main living area by entrance hall along with a useful coats/boots cupboard. Full width Living Room is at the front leading to the Kitchen/Diner facing rear. The Kitchen has recently had a stylish upgrade including a peninsular breakfast bar with further space for a dining table. The Kitchen/Diner looks out to the garden through the Conservatory addition, which at around 3.2m by 3.2m is a great bonus space, useable as a further dining space or office for example.

Upstairs, all three bedrooms have built-in storage/wardrobes and the bathroom is bright and airy with a shower and glass screen over the bath.

A particular feature of the home is the outlook at the rear toward a neighbouring thatched cottage roof, which really adds interest along with a casual seating area under the thatched eaves.
