A fine choice for the growing family with five double bedrooms, an extended ground floor providing truly generous living space, south-facing landscaped garden and the convenience of a mainline station direct to London St Pancras just 10 mins walk away.

LOCATION

A looped cul-de-sac within Arlesey's Church End, about 10 mins walk to the station in one direction with the A507 leading to the A1 just 2 minutes drive in the other direction. There's a large local convenience shop just a few minutes walk away and country walks including the Hicca Way and river accessed via the rail bridge at the station. Chancellors is a family friendly environment with a gated play area enclosed within the cul-de-sac 'loop'.

ACCOMMODATION

Originally a large house by design, it has been further extended on the ground floor with an extension to the Dining Room including bi-fold doors onto the patio and a large lantern skylight. This room is now more of a family/dining room and complements the already generous living room to the front with double doors between the two spaces. The kitchen is in keeping with the house size and features a large quartz-wrapped island and all integrated appliances. Five double bedrooms, three with ensuites (two are large Masters), a family bathroom and guest cloakroom means it's a true 'growing family' house.

WORTH NOTING

The bedrooms in the house offer some 'family-beneficial' options which can be helpful depending on your family's lifestyle - notably that there are two large Master Bedroom options, one on the first floor and the other on the top floor (as well as a third ensuite bedroom) so you can choose where to be in relation to the other bedrooms. The 'fifth' bedroom (by no means the smallest) on the top floor is proportioned to make an ideal family room / playroom / tv and office room / teenager bedroom - see photos.

PLOT

Number one point here is the south-facing garden (vital in a street of tall houses) which has been attractively landscaped and despite the direct sunny aspect still offers areas of shade. A really lovely place to be.
